Mr. J.W. Ostiguy,
International Relations

I have gone over the list of Russian visitors that you sent. Academician L.A. Artsimovich may be interested in our Plasma group. Unfortunately, during the time of his visit to Canada neither Dr. Ramsden, who is in charge of Plasma Physics, nor I will be in Ottawa. It could perhaps be mentioned to him that there will, of course, be people in the laboratory who could show him what is going on, but under the circumstances it would be unwise to invite him for a lecture. Another laboratory that he may want to visit is the Physics Department of the University of British Columbia, where a good deal of plasma work is going on.

I should very much like to invite Academician B.M. Vul to lecture to us on dielectrics in our Physics Colloquium. Vul was here on a previous occasion with the first exchange delegation from the Soviet Union. He is a very interesting person. Other laboratories he might care to visit are the Physics Departments of the University of Waterloo and Simon Fraser University.
