Visit by Sir John Johnston
British High Commissioner

I believe you may already be aware of the proposed visit of Sir John Johnston to the Laboratories on Wednesday, 26 May. Attached for your information is a tentative programme for the visit and some background information on Sir John.

Sir John has apparently expressed a wish to visit the spectroscopy laboratories of the Institute - possibly because he will be accompanied by Dr. Leonard Bovey - and I hope that you and other members of the scientific staff will be available to entertain him. It is expected that there will be two or three other members of the British High Commission in the party.

You will note that the visit is planned to last only half an hour so that it will not be possible to show him everything. Could you please let me know what things you would propose showing him?
