LIST OF

ARROW 2

This report lists materials that are called up on Arrow 2 drawings by their commercial designations.

In some instances the materials, which are called up by commercial designations now meet specifications which have been issued since release of the drawings or have some other form of approval. All available specifications or approvals that we know to exist at the date of issue of this document are listed.

The materials shown have, in many cases, a range of thickness or sizes all of which may or may not be called up. Only basic materials and/or numbers are shown.
